"You won't find typical (read: tasteless) veggie food here!"
- Zagat's 1996

Sacred Chow's commitment to the earth & to non violence towards all forms of life, brings you unique primarily organic specialty foods prepared without the use of any animal products.

No animal meat, no eggs, no dairy milk or cheese, no butter, no fish.

Why are our foods primarily organic & created without using any animal products?

Well, the earth & all life on it is very, very delicate. Violence & destruction exists everywhere without a moments notice, without life, teeming with possibilities, destroyed. When farmers use pesticides to grow crops, it's destructive to everything, not just the pests. Organic farming does not poison us, the air or the earth. Our rain forests, which produce oxygen for us to breathe, are being cut down to grow animals & grains for animals to eat, so that we can enjoy certain foods. While these foods may be tasty, they are hurting our bodies & depleting the oxygen which the trees give back to the earth. Furthermore, overpopulation of animals for food, pollutes & delays our land & waters which all forms of life need to live.

We must ask: how is the food we are purchasing supporting our lives & the earth? Because life being so delicate & fragile, must be protected.

Sacred Chow is devoted to providing a beautiful, innovative & gentle food source that supports all life, human health & our planet.

PICK A PICNIC

TAKE-OUT FEAST FOR PARK EVENTS!

PERFECT PICNIC POSSIBILITY
RECOMMENDED BY SUZANNE HAMLIN

DAILY NEWS

June 8, 1988

Test your neighborhood sushi place against SAKURA and odds are this Third Ave. Japanese restaurant will come right on the freshness scale. There is a subtlety in the presentation, too, which elevates SAKURA.
Assemble your own collection of appetizer, noodles, and Nigiri sushi or do what Japanese would do for a picnic, get a box of sashimi or sushi, chopsticks included.
The deluxe sashimi, beautifully arranged in a covered cardboard box, costs $12.95 and, the other day, included yellowtail, tuna, shrimp, octopus, mackerel and egg custard. The deluxe sushi box, $11.95, contained an assortment of delectable fish and cucumber seaweed rolls. A perfect picnic for two would be one of each.

BITE-SIZE REVIEWS

NEW YORK TIMES

"One of twelve noteworthy burger places in Manhattan. It's a throwback in every way to old fast food burger joints."

"The hamburger is the American national dish. A delicious example is at Sassy's Sliders."

NEW YORK MAGAZINE

"...better by far are the spilly takeoffs at Sassy's Sliders. Veggie, Beef and Turkey are all surprisingly good."

GANNETT NEWSPAPERS

"Here the bite size burgers are a roadside classic. It's a hit."

DAILY NEWS

"There is something very appealing about these little burgers. They're fun to gobble down."

NEWSDAY

"One of the best snacks I've tasted lately was the tiny burger with onions and pickles at Sassy's Sliders."

NEW YORK POST

"Sassy's bite size burgers go down so easy, most folks order them in multiples. Adding to the delicious food feast are the fabulous french fries."

LUNCH SPECIAL Monday - Friday before 4:00 pm!

Here's what some critics have said of our Shanghai Tang restaurant at 125-30 40th Road in Flushing, NY. EATING OUT "Like most Shanghai-style restaurants, Shanghai Tang serves terrific soup dumplings, for which Americans seem to have a special affinity." NEW YORK TIMES, APRIL 16, 1999.

THE TASTE OF COOK "... Shanghai Tang has a lot more to offer, including an excellent selection of cold dishes like 'steamed crab', Shanghai pork-bird noodles and any of a half-dozen red preparations." NEW YORK TIMES, JULY 24, 1998.

"In this always friendly corner of Shanghai Tang, a visitor can sample a variety of unconventional dishes. Among these are oysters, and the sauteed blue-crab special." GQ, ALAN RICHMAN.

"Where you'll also find a massive menu of dishes not offered at your local bistro!" ZAGAT survey 1999, 2000.

OUR TOWN Dining

BY FRANCIS ANGELINO

FEATURED
IN Gourmet MAGAZINE
by Jay Jacobs

Edward L. Koch, this city's mayor has declared Peking duck to be the supreme dish that world gastronomy has to offer. Whether or not you agree with His Honor's finding, the question I'd like to propound is this: Would you rather spend $23 or $5.95 for the delicacy in question?

Both Peking duck and astonishingly close but duckless facsimiles thereof are served at SHANGHAI MANOR, a thoroughly worth-while Chinese restaurant at 141 East 55th Street. Lay out the higher price for the genuine article and you'll do very well for yourself indeed. Economize, however, and I doubt very much that you'll discern seventeen bucks' worth of difference in a blind tasting.

This dish the restaurant calls Vegetable Pie is made up of layered bean curd "skins" interspersed with chopped dried shrimp. The thin envelopes are sealed and deep-fried, then cut into "along segments" and folded into steamed pancakes, along with scallion brushes and hoisin sauce. The resultish parcel bears an uncanny resemblance to the regal dish they mock. Under one name or another I've had roast Peking duck at several restaurants around town. None have simulated the genuine article as closely as the version served at Shanghai Manor.

Crispy Whole Fish Hunan Style is deep fried sea bass. The dish is a flat-out masterpiece, aromatic, vibrantly flavorsome, full of beguiling contrasts.

—WCBS all news 88

"Crunchy beef in an orange flavored glaze was merely sensational — the best version of this popular dish I have yet tasted."
